

Iain's five must-have gadgets for 2004

1. iPod Mini

This pint-sized addition to the iPod line-up comes in a variety of colours and is around two-thirds the size of the standard iPod. You'll be able to take 1000 of your favourite tunes anywhere for just £199.

2. Gameboy Advance SP

The original and best. Nintendo knows how to make great consoles and the SP line-up of the new Pokemon games, involving adventures like Golden Sun and cool strategy from Advance Wars, makes it a must-have on the tube.

Cost: £89.99

3. Apple iBook G4

3. Apple iBook G4

Versatile laptop, with more than five hours' battery life, wireless for browsing the web and a built-in CD writer. And in this market it's very well priced at £848.90. Every school child and or parent in the country should have one!

4. XBOX - Crystal edition

If you don't have an XBOX then now is the perfect time to invest. At £139 including two controllers, this is the most stylish way to own the best home console on the market.

5. Sky+

This great way to record digital TV means you'll never miss a single episode again. Become master of your TV again, not the other way around. Regardless of whether you're a current Sky customer or not, the box will cost you £199. Installation costs depends on the package you order, and there are no fewer than 96 packages.

iPod Mini

Gameboy Advance SP

Apple iBook G4

Photo Sales
archive search
click here to browse

Go Find It

s1jobs.com
SUBMIT YOUR CV & LET SCOTLAND'S TOP RECRUITERS FIND YOU!
CLICK HERE

TravelShop
We know what you want from a holiday

Related articles .....

- I get paid to fly...

XBOX - Crystal edition

Sky+

 email article to a friend

 have your say: email us

Copyright © 2004 Newsquest (Herald & Times) Limited. All Rights Reserved
Terms of Use